

Welcome Tierra Schulz, APRN

Tierra is a Pediatric Nurse Practitioner who joins us after working in a pediatric office in Scottsdale for the last couple of years. She grew up in Seattle, WA and completed her undergraduate degree at Washington State University. As a Registered Nurse, Tierra worked at Seattle Children's Hospital on the Hematology/Oncology unit administering chemotherapy, performing bone marrow transplants, and caring for the critically ill. In 2016, she moved to Arizona with her husband, Jarrett, and attended graduate school at Arizona State University. During her doctoral studies, Tierra's capstone project and area of focus was in pediatric vaccination, primarily in patient and family education regarding the HPV vaccine. Tierra and Jarrett have a 2 year old daughter named Blakely and two (very large) pups, Dakota and Dane. Tierra loves travelling with her family, taking her dogs on walks, and watching HGTV to come up with new house projects for her husband!
